

Politics is Both Admired and Reviled

Politics is both admired and reviled at the same time. We build up politicians and rejoice in tearing them down over the smallest transgressions.

It makes me wonder sometimes why anyone would want to enter the political arena.

I want to believe that it is because politicians are men and women who have a vision for a better future.

I have a willingness to consider the future impact of decisions made today, even a willingness to sacrifice on behalf of that future.

I see a problem that I want to fix, large or small, and I take on the challenge of correcting that problem, not just for myself and my family, but also to prevent that problem from continuing to harm other families in my community.

My team and I are willing to roll up our sleeves and go to work every day to solve the problems we all recognize.

I am James “Boyd” Canterbury, your independent candidate for Fremont County Sheriff. Since starting my campaign, I have not changed, wavered, or modified my plans on how to solve the crime problems in our communities. The people of this county need consistent, firm, fair and transparent law enforcement from people who love our beautiful rural county and understand its issues.

The citizens of Fremont County, whom I have the pleasure to meet, talk to and listen to every day, are expressing the same concerns I have. The issues we discuss are vitally important because they affect all our lives in serious ways. It has been very satisfying to interact with so many people because it affirms that we recognize the same problems and are willing to work together to solve them.

Let’s look at the last year:

There are five open homicide cases this year alone in Fremont County. We are also faced with hard drugs on the streets, crime on the rise, lack of prosecutions, lack of investigations, lack of accountability, lack of transparency, lack of cooperation, lack of response from law enforcement and a lack of public education on how to keep ourselves safe.

You the people know that these issues are serious and that it will take a team of men and women who are dedicated to solving them. These problems continually affect our families and neighborhoods. Changes must be made for the benefit and safety of the people of Fremont County. We not need another four years of politics as usual. Instead, we need a sheriff who knows the county, the people and how to solve the problems we are dealing with. We do not need another sheriff who spends all his time in the city for the city.

In November, vote James "Boyd" Canterbury for Fremont County Sheriff.
